Dear Mr. Lukács,

Please find enclosed copy of my letter dated August 25, 1964, to which I never got your reply.

During this lapse of time the preparation of your book of literary essays, under the title ENSAIOS SOBRE LITERATURA, was compiled and I am glad to inform you that I am receiving today a few sample copies from the printing plant. Under separate cover we are sending you 6 (six) complimentary copies.

It is now the time, evidently, to formalize our understanding in the form of a contract. Should you accept the terms I offer you in the enclosed letter, please be kind enough to prepare the contract in two copies for our signature.

Hoping you will like the book when you receive it, I am, with deep respect and kind regards,

Sincerely yours,
EDITORA CIVILIZAÇÃO BRASILEIRA S/A.
