Dear Sir:

Our records of the Jewish Encyclopedia for Vol. 5 show that the articles mentioned in the enclosed list have been assigned to you, and according to the terms of the contract between us, are now overdue. As they must be in our hands within the course of the next few weeks, we shall feel greatly obliged if you will kindly set to work upon them at once.

The very latest date that we can wait for them is as follows: Articles in the letters "B", "G", and "H" must be delivered to us by March 1, 1903--before if possible. As these articles could not be written satisfactorily by other persons on short notice, we trust that you will not disappoint us and that you will forward them so that they shall reach us by the above stated date.

Please notify us by return mail if we can rely upon you to deliver the articles accepted by you by the date given above. In the event of your not sending us a notification to reach us on or before Feb. 7, 1903, we shall be reluctantly compelled to assume that you are unable to supply the articles and will proceed to assign them elsewhere.

Yours very truly,

Funk & Wagnalls Company
