Dear Mr. Lukacs:

We have selected your name for inclusion in a forthcoming issue of CURRENT BIOGRAPHY, which for over two decades has appeared both as a monthly periodical and as a yearbook.

CURRENT BIOGRAPHY is used the world over in public, school, college, and research libraries. Newspapers, radio and television stations, and government agencies often consult it for accurate information on people in the headlines.

We would appreciate receiving from you the biographical data requested on the enclosed questionnaire. You may add some facts if you wish. Our researchers will use this information to prepare a carefully written, objective, and well-documented article on your life and career.

Will you please send us a portrait type of photograph (preferably a glossy print) that we may use to accompany the article.

Finally, we wish to make clear that we charge absolutely nothing to include a biography in our publication. We choose our candidates only because they are prominent in the news or because librarians have had inquiries about them from the public. We hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely yours,

Charles Moritz
