Dear Prof. Lukacs:

At the suggestion of my friend, Dr. Annette Rubenstein, I am mailing you under separate cover today an anthology on EXISTENTIALISM VERSUS MARXISM: Conflicting Views on Humanism, which has recently been published in New York. I edited and wrote an introduction for the volume.

It contains an excerpt from your noted work on that subject and references to the development of your views in the controversy.

There is today among the radical youth and in the universities a growing interest in this subject, as I know from personal observation.

I hope you will find the volume of interest.

Sincerely,
