Dear Prof. Lukács:

We are pleased to send you reprints of an article of yours which was recently published by us. In the fifth issue we will include your article, "The Old Culture and the New Culture." We hope to publish more of your earlier writings in future issues.

If you would like to send us more recent works of yours, we would be happy to publish them. (We would be glad to translate articles written in either French or German into English.)

Sincerely,

Paul Piccone
