Dear Dr. Lukács,

We are very grateful for your prompt reply to our request for an article. I think this will fit very well into the series we have in mind and we will let you have a proof of the translation once it is settled. We have no idea at the moment when the series might start appearing, but it should be some time during the summer. We would prefer not to print your contribution as a letter, but as an article, which means making one or two very small alterations to the first sentence. I don't imagine that this will worry you.

Yours sincerely,

John Sturrock
