Dear Mr Lukács,

Encouraged by a mutual acquaintance,
Dr Eric Hobsbawm, of London University, I take the liberty of bringing you, with my deep respect, a book of critical essays I wrote some years ago.

I have been in Budapest lecturing at the University, and shall be here for another week or ten days before returning to England, when I should be pleased if I could be of any service to you in the way of sending books or articles.

Yours sincerely,

Oliver Wendt.
