Argumentum.

Damon & Pythias Pythagorei firmam adeo inter se junctura amicitiam, mox ut alter pro altero cuperet; Cum enim Damon, accepta a Dionysio Syracusarum Tyranno grave ob crimen necis sententia, redeundi in patriam, proutquam petisset, petere, vel veniam, hanc eam lege obtinuit, pro se ut vadem, et ad necem; redire si ipsa tarda vel, statum paratum, statuat. Invenit in Pythia talem, qui se ultro princiendum pro amico obtulit; Nec datam sefellis fidem Damon, destinata si quidem neci rediens die et sibi, & amico vitam, atq; gloriam reperit, qua pro rata adeo fide a Dionysio, eorum in amicitia allegere numerum expectante, sunt donati. Ita Valer. Max. L. H. Cap. 7.

On regarde maintenant comme authentique cette lettre de S. M. C., déjà annoncée dans nos feuilles, en réponse au Bref de notre S. Père le Pape, en voici la traduction.

Fils saint Père.

Mon cœur a été rempli de douleur, et amerume, en recevant la lettre de V. S. en réponse à l'avis que Je lui avois donné de l'expulsion des Réguliers de la Compagnie de Jésuites de toutes les terres de ma domination. Lequel est le fils qui ne s'attendait pas, quand il voit un Père qu'il despise, et qu'il aime, plongé dans la douleur, & noyé dans le larmes! J'aime la Personne de V. S. en qui Je considère les vertus les plus exemplaires; et en qui Je révère le Vicair de Jésus Christ, V. S. peut juger par la jusq' à quel point j'ai pris part à son Affli-tion, et J'ai été d'autant plus sensible que J'ai cru en voir la cause dans son peu de confiance en la solidité des raisons, ou plutôt des convictions qui ont déterminé la résolution que J'ai prise. ces raisons ces convictions. F. S. P. ont été trop fortes, et trop abondantes, pour ne devoir pas mes porter à expulser pour toujours de toutes les terres de mon Empire le Corps entier des dits Réguliers, et pour devoir seulement me borner à quelques uns de ses individus: C'est de quoi j'affure de nouveau V. S.; mais comme la Vérité de cet exposé peut uniquement faire votre consolation, F. S. P. Je prie le Seigneur de vouloir bien lui même vous en convaincre. Au surplus, La Divine Bonté a permis que dans cette affaire J'eusse sans cesse devant les yeux le compte in-gommé que je dois lui rendre un jour du Gouvernement de mes Sujets, non seulement de leur bien temporel, mais principalement de leur bonheur éternel; c'est pourquoi, dans cette idée, et à cette fin, j'ai élargement pourvu à ce qu'aucuns secours spirituels ne puissent jamais leur manquer, même dans les pais les plus lointains, ainsi que V. S. soit tranquille sur le sujet, puisqu'il est celui qui l'affecte le plus et qu'elle veuille bien me ramener de plus en plus par son attention paternelle, et par sa Bénédiction Apostolique, que le Seigneur confère à tres. sainte Personne de V. S. pour le bien de toute l'Eglise.

A Franque le 2 May 1769.

Wunderbare Genesung

So zu Rom den dritten Tag des Christ - Monats im Jahr 1765.
durch die Fürbitt

Des H. Moysius Gonzaga der Gesellschaft Jesu geschehen.

Unter tausendtausend Kindern, so täglich durch den H. Moysius nalen: gibt und dankwürdigen werden, ist auch solgender, welcher in seiner zu glaublichen Jugendzeit von einer unheilbaren Krankheit befallen, die eine Fortschreit in nächster Todesgefahr durch mittelst waserflüssiger und unheilbarer Exspiration des heiligen nassalta.

Diese ist Margartha Bianchi, aus Rom Landini Familie, knapp und zwanzig Jahr alt, eine tugendhafte und fromme jungfrau in Rom. Im Jahr 1765. am 1ten Tag des heiligsten Monats besuchte sie zu der ersten Zeit einen so heiligen Besuch; ließ sie wieder zu Tag noch Nacht nassen könnte.
Man glaubte anfänglich, es wäre der Besuch für den heiligen Heiligtümern, den sie wissen die Regeln gezogen hätten. Der in wunderlichen Umständen angekommen; doch wunderbar: denn es verursachte sich ein blutiger Auswurf, ein starkes schmerzhaftes Fieber, Kopfweh, schweres Athmen, öfteres Schweiß, und war andere gefährliche Zufälle, welche den Leib: letzten Grund was andern zu vermehren gab, als sie im Au-stehen glaubten. Die jungen zu helfen, und wurden in Rom sinnig, ließ sich ein unheilbares Geschwür mit einer Zungen - Zerstörung angebracht haben müssen. Hiervon wurde sie sehr und sehr unmöglich abzuhelfen; jedoch Mittel gesucht worden der Kranken zu bringen. Die denn wurde zum öfteren größt: Unflügen und Arztney - Mittel, die das Geschwür zu heilen, die heiligen Heiligtümern abzuheilen, und die Zungen zu heilen, wurden

Sie umfaßt Sie also ganzgute Maß mit ungemeiner Andacht.

Als bald überfällt sie ein tiefer Schlaf, der man nicht zurückzuführen ist: und indem sie mit den Händen zu sich kommt, eröffnet sie die Augen. Man versteht deutlich von ihrem Augensicht die lieblichsten Farben: sie sieht ein zu rotes, und was sie gesehen hätte, zu erzählen: sie schlüßte und schlüßte, daß sie vollkommen gesund wäre, und daß sie ihre Augen nicht mehr zu bedauern hätte. Und in der That ist das Gesandte finster waren herfürwundern samt der Kopf- und Seiten- Schmerzen: sie abzuata läßt: das Blutverfließen waren gänzlich gestillt: sie hätte den vollkommenen Gebrauch aller Sinne: die Kräfte waren so gesund, daß sie sich ohne fremde Hilfe selbst aus dem Bette erheben konnte und in der Stube herum gehen. Gleich am folgenden Tag herflücht sie sich in die Kirche des h. Ignatius: und indem sie selbst vor der heiligen Bild- Türe des heiligen Aloisius ihre Dankagung vorstelt; erblickt sie an einem Augensicht und Kleidung oben den Jüngling, der ihr Tag und Nacht nachsinn; hermann hat sie ihren Andachts- Lieder, und gelobt, daß sie den sehr kostbaren Aloisius Andacht, so oft sie gesalben worden, einmal in der Woche besuchen wolle.

Der gutthätige Aloisius hat Margaritens nicht nur von dem oben beschriebenen tödlichen Uebel; sondern auch noch von einer großen Gefahr unter der Brust umschützt, um sie selbst, die ihr mancher schwerer Krankheit in horigen Jahren zu ziehen, befreit. Mit dieser gesunden Seite auf die unruhigsten gewaltigen Zittern, so ist von diesem zu beruhigen gelangt, also daß sie bereits sehr wohl ist.

Es ist sie nicht über zu sagen, wie sehr bei dieser glücklichen Genesung sie sich einmahl alles Unglücks herlos, welches die Kranken zu bedrückend flugt: mit welchem sie an Margaritens und ihrem Bette so sehr wünschte, daß es nicht unmöglich schien selbst zu kommen.

Es hat selblich diese Genesung die heilige Gestalt einer süßlich und wunderbarlichen Wohlthat. Aloisius wollte sich gegen diese seine neue Krankenpflege zu zeigen, und deshalb war gutthätig vorzuziehen, als sie begabte; so war sie ihm, damit er ihr das unglücklichste Gewand zu ersetzen konnte, und sie selbst glücklich zu größerer Zuhilfenahme nahm.

Sieher wunderhollen Genesung waren zu zeigen zu einer unerschulden Kranken- Mäurer: der nun und dem Orden des h. Augustinus, zugleich Klarer: der unter ein gesunder Einnahme, Margaritens Brief- Vater: darunter ist gewalt, ihre Disziplin- Mutter, ihre zwei Dienerinnen, zwei andere Blut- Familien samt viel Anderen und Heilgenossen. Sie alle vor dem heiligen Kisten des oben beschriebenen Uebels nicht bedrückend haben. Dieser segnet sie zu zeigen zu einem Herrn Leib- Arzt und ein Kind- Arzt, welche die Kranken besorgen, und auf ihr Excipiendis, quoniam respectum fama nuntiat, Cyro hic destinatus in Patre locus, et dies? Palm. Nempe. Verum quid tu inde speras? Mand. Quid speram? et ubi hic Cyros laetatur? quid agit? cur non id est jam modus? Palm. Ah Princeps! facidior hoc pcedat gradu, atque matrem vota, sed eadem adveniente Cyro, ista est loca. Nocturna Dea facere non licet ante, quam mergat mari Phoebo Olympo redit lapsatum caput, nam matrem levat in mari gubas. Mand. Verum, sed quid? an non filius impatiens mora? heu me! pavore invitam occupat. Palm, real. Palm. Nam quid pavore autem, si ipse, qui extinctum volebat, Affragus hodie suum accersit Cyrum, fugiat, deperit? Mand. Quid sis, an a fiteo haec ora adfinitudo? Palm. Simulet? quid ars obsecro? hoc ne tu credas, tam excedendi se facit pendens suspensum ream? sacrificium tempus technis ut deligat. huius? postulat crimini suo complices Deos? affit hoc vero? Mand. Pars, facias, adigna est tam puerilis credulitas, hanc te sepe cunctis abominari decet. Fictile somnium, quod nocti, tuis fors exstitit, ma, bis. De somniis Pater vidit ex nasi male ornatum arborem, quae omni late Affragi ramis tebat huius; ex paritomen, inter, pectus Magos vocat, quos nocte solum ignota sapienter facit, illi, turba venalis, pectus, huius lucis soliti quodcumque ven, pibus comendare scelus, timorem vocant sapientiam: sancte asserunt, quam utero generes prolem, generi fatalem sua, Avum possessio deturbaturam throno. Ne novam tibi sololem, novos timo, res sibi, faciendum daret thalamus, exulem jubet procul a te divelli confortem throni. Qua vana credendi precipit facili, tus, vides. Mand. Ah non est somnium. Octava quod jam his mebris finges dedit, ex quo meum, vix notum bene, creptum mihi Cyrum infelix genero. Hodie affuturum fero, et me tranquillum postulas? Palm. Jam vehementer haud credidi in te Mater amorem impetus. Mox a partu amissum natum, cum vix tertium gemina super lucta adjices: attamen leviora illa in atate imperare in dis hominum vestigia affectus solent. Mand. Ah refert etiam? Materem esse? quid verum hic est Harpagus, Palmyra Pater? Erans adest. factasie. Harpage!

In portu res est, tuta ora, hodie pectum Cyrum latebris reatum suis publica in luce mundo spectandum dabo. Hodie n expectata avis victima Tyccarus cadet.
