My dear Dr Nöldeke

I shall be much obliged to you if you will kindly take the trouble of recommending my article which I have sent to the Oriental Conference to be held at Copenhagen. It deals with "Foreign literature and Arab Royalties." Its chief merit lies in the fact that it 1901 shows how the Arab princes ^{and nobles} took pains in the translation of foreign literary works into the Arabic language. I have given, in Chronological order, an account of Kings who were interested in literary pursuits and who helped the cause of learning.

As I could get only one copy typed, I am very sorry that I could not send one to you.
However I can assure you that I have written the article with much labour and thought. I

I believe it will be of interest to Oriental scholars. In conclusion I hope that you will kindly adopt such measures that my article which has been sent to the General Secretary, Dr M. Chr. Sarauw, may be read or at least be published in the proceedings of the Conference.

I am well and hope that you are enjoying good health.

Thanking you

in anticipation I remain,

Yours sincerely

M. Hidayat Husain

Scholar, Asiatic

I am well and hope
