My dear Soldier, Thank you very much for the two articles which you have sent to me. They are both very suggestive and I have no doubt that your hypothesis of influence by Aristotle is correct. When my Hikāya article appears you will find another influence.
Gaidner has not yet written to me about the man concerning whom you asked. But George Swan in Lexington has sent me a pamphlet printed in Cairo wh. turns out to be faubari's gīn الغيا. A.E. Schmidt in Petersburg has also sent me his ed. of the Durār of Sha'rōnī with elaborate introduction which I can't read, being in Russian! I did not know before of Schmidt or of his work. Here we are hammering away. I have three students reading, Baidāwī and the Thya but am getting little written myself. "The times are out of joint." Keep up your heart. We will meet again in better days.
Meanwhile we can only work.
In the last Muslim World Gaidner has a study of your Hadith article in Moh. Studies ii. With all good remembrances and wishes for you and your wife, pray us both.

Always as before,
Yours,
A. B. Macdonald
