Dear Mr. Macdonald, after receiving your card this morning I wrote instantly to Mr. F. Macclerand I ~~shall~~ hope that he will not delay the fulfilment of your demand. In returning to my home (22. oct) I found my wife and my son in good health والله اعلم. I am now always occupied in my leisure-hours to read all the books which waited for me and to answer the letters laying on my table. That will keep many evenings. I am obliged also to write some reviews on books received, in first place on the 3rd volume of the Fiqh, al-Jalil - al-Kabir published by Mr. Hurant, a fanatic worshiper of a bad MS. which he reproduced and translated in a very miserable manner. You can see the book in your Seminary-Library. Did you see the bulky volume of 740 pages, with which Mr. Leone Caetani, Duke of Teano introduces his "Annali dell' Islam"? Dear friend! I will never forget the happy days I passed in your circle and the sentiments of true friendship I experienced from you and Mrs. Macdonald. I suppose, that ~~not only~~ there are not only scientific interests which are the groundwork of our friendship, but the feelings of personal sympathies. Mrs. Goldzicher charges me, to be the messenger of her compliments to you and Mrs. Macdonald.

Yours faithfully
J. Goldzicher
