

it should be very suitable if an other fellow Muslim would undertake that task, and that other must be - you. I sent you last week my notes on Muslim pedagogy. Did the bundle reach you and found you in it some useful thing?

Prof. D. B. MacDonald

Hartford

Dear Prof. Macdonald, Many thanks for the brilliant photo's representing in a very true manner my ^{part} in its American existence.

I do not doubt that you have since made your arrangement with Mr. Macles and that your contribution will reach Prof. Peyrol early enough for being incorporated in the Nöldke Volume. I wrote to Peyrol to allow you the necessary delay. Mr. Hastings, in a letter received yesterday, asks a large Islam-Article from me; but having written the last two years two times on that very matter,
