

Tangier, Morocco.

Sept. 6th 1906.

that any communication addressed there will always reach me.

Dear Professor Goldziher,

Yours very faithfully,

I thank you for your card, which I received the other day. I shall write to-day to my publisher to ask him to send you a book of mine, on the Origin and Development of the Moral Ideas, which was published last spring. It is only the first volume, but I hope to have the second one ready in a year. In the second chapter I am dealing with curses, and you will there find that I am acquainted with your Abhandlungen. I am going to Morocco every year; altogether I have now been staying there for more than four years, and made extensive travels. However, my monograph on the popular religion of the Moors will not be ready very soon, although I have collected much materials and shall again soon publish some article on the subject. I am at present divided between Helsingfors (where I am ordinary professor of moral philosophy), London (where I am appointed lecturer on sociology), and Morocco, where I hope to be able to spend some four months every year. I am now going to Finland, and Helsinki will, in a way, be my permanent address, in so far that any communication addressed there will always reach me.

With kind regards,

Yours very faithfully,

Ed. Westermarck

I thank you for your I shall write to-day to my publisher to ask him to send you a book of mine, on the Origin and Development of the Moral Ideas, which was published last spring. It is only the first volume, but I hope to have the second one ready in year. In the second chapter I am dealing with courses, and you will there find that I am acquainted with your Abhandlungen. I am going to Morocco every year; altogether I have now been staying there for more than four years, and made extensive travels. However, my monograph on the popular religion of the Moors will not be ready very soon, although I have collected much material and shall again soon publish some article on the subject. I am at present divided between Helsinki (where I am ordinary professor of moral philosophy, London where I am appointed lecturer on so-ciology, and Morocco, where I hope to be able to spend some four months every year. I am