Dear Mr. Lukács,

I am a socialist young man of seventeen, who is one of your greatest admirers. You are, indeed, one of the most important Marxist the history has had. I have read your various essays edited by "L'Espresso", here in Italy - I'd like, therefore, to ask you two questions, hoping I don't bother you in your work.

1) Is there a difference between the "middle-class", and the "capitalism"?

2) What is your opinion on the recent events in the Poland?

(Lukács)

Looking forward to hearing from you soon,

I pay one's respects to you,

Dear Mr. Lukács,

Ludwig Wtasbaum

I am a socialist young man of creation,
